Rapid changes of temperature are hard

on the toughest constitution.

The conductor passing from the heated inside of a trolley car to the icy temperature of the platform—the canvasser spending an hour or so in a heated building and then walking against a biting wind—know the difficulty of avoiding cold.

WHEN NEST IS NEEDED.

Feeling of Uncertainty in Performance

of Routine Work.

"When people fall into the habit of wondering whether they have done

routine things it is high time for them to consider the advisability of a rest,"

said a physician. "There is no surer sign, to my mind, that the system is becoming overtaxed than this feeling of uncertainty.

"I was staying with a friend the other night—spending the night with him. He is a very nice fellow. I know pretty well, and I thought at dinner and through the evening, from a little nervousness in his conversation

and manner, that things weren't all right with him, but I wasn't absolutely convinced till bedtime approached. We were sitting upstairs in his study, his family having retired, and he asked me to excuse him while he saw that the house was locked up.

It was a still night, and I could follow

his progress around the various rooms on the first floor. He seemed to me to be unusually quiet, and, without being inquisitive, I really became interested to know whether he wasn't making the rounds twice. Finally I heard him go into the parlor, a room

I was sure he had visited at least once before. When he came upstairs I asked laughingly how many times he had seen that window was fastened. But he wasn't in a laughing mood at all.

"It's a funny thing, old man," he said, "but I've been fool enough to look at that window two or three times.

Do you know, it would strike me after

I had left a room that perhaps I hadn't put the catch properly on one of the windows there, and back I'd have to go to make sure. Being in there, I'd examine the other windows again. It's been that way for half a dozen nights.

Sometimes doing these things doesn't seem to make the impression on me that one would expect. This lack of consciousness isn't confined to looking down stairs either. I find myself at the office wondering whether I have given such and such instructions—instruc-

Christmas vacations possible, and with the present supply of contracts and the possibilities in view the prospect of idle periods is not consoling.

With a multiplicity of designs to choose from, and the readiness to accept the new ideas offered, manufacturers of shoes are at sea as to the lines which are likely to lead in favor of the coming season. It is definitely settled that patent leather will lead for material, and oxfords for shape.

Beyond that it is impossible to forecast public taste. Designers have had considerable latitude and the of old being a shape which permits elaboration, the designs produced in it out-ripped anything heretofore. Especially neat are the combinations of leathers used in vamps and upper, contrasting effects having been sought in many instances. Three methods of fastening have already been tested—

string, button, and buckle—and a fastener on a strap, graduated to secure a fit, is among the latest novelties. A "double-breasted" button effect is secured on a new design for men's button oxford—

ON THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

They say St. Nick keeps a Regina piano going on his sleigh. He likes it—and he knows. Nothing—dolls, toys, playthings, nothing will please the little ones as a Regina piano. It plays all kinds of music for them, then talks a while, sings a song, recites a monologue—changes from one to the other in a jiffy. And a child can "run it." The Regina

Norfolk County Association.

One of the best attended and most interesting meetings held by the Norfolk County Association of Grand Army and Relief Corps people since their organization was that held in Old Fellows opera house, East Weymouth, last Wednesday.

The following department officers were present: J. Payson Bradlee, Department Commander; Daniel H. Gleason, Senior Vice Dep.; William Weatherbee, Assistant Adj. Gen.; W. C. Litchfield, Chaplain; E. H. Dunbar, Past Dep. Com.; Mrs. Lou Stewart, Wailworth, Junior Vice Dep. Pres.; Mrs. Mary Beal, Dep. Inspector, and Posts and Relief Corps of nearly every town in the County were well represented.

The morning session was mostly occupied with routine business and at noon an elegant and beautiful dinner was served by the local Relief Corps.

The principal speakers of the afternoon were E. H. Dunbar, who is a combination of wit and pathos, and always interesting; J. Payson Bradlee was eloquent as he spoke of the work of the old soldiers in the past and the needs of the future.

Mrs. Dawes of Neponset and Mrs. Hanscomb of Lovell's Corner gave vocal solos appropriate to the occasion; a quartet from Hingham, with "Andy" Bicknell as soloist, added to the occasion, and Mrs. George D. Bagley and Miss Mildred French furnished piano duets.

Don't be afraid to give something with your means; nothing is in worse taste than to give expensive gifts when you can not afford it.

The Word "Cutler."

"Cutler," according to its present use, should mean a man who makes things that cut, but really it has no more to do with cutting than "cutlery" and "cutler" have, which is just nothing at all. "Cut" has some Teutonic origin, but "cutler" comes through French from the late Latin "cutellarius," which meant either a soldier armed with a knife or a knife-maker, and "cutlery," a little knife, was the diminutive of "cutler." The name of the things meant a plover or "cutler." "Cutlery" comes from the same source, and "cutler" is "cutellarius," a little rib.

One Thing Lacking.

"I hear," said H. Tragedy, "that what they were playing in one of the theatres was a fire broke out in the theatre."

"Yes," said Low Comedy, "and there might have been a horrible panic but for one thing."

"What was that?"

"There weren't enough people in the audience to create one!"—Mossburn.

The Regular Charge.

"I've come to pay my bill," said the patient, "229.11 dollars."

"Yes," replied Dr. Soakem, "making a total of $122."

"I don't quite understand."

"That brings it up to date, including today. I charge $2 for office visits, you know,"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Why?

One Question

Why is it a purchase at this store is always gratifying to one? Is it or is it not owing to our popularity. Particularly, but more especially so on account of the high grade of sold here, their splendid qualities, and the wonderfully low prices they are sold at. Take advantage of these points of merit at this Christmas time and you'll never regret it.

GOUDAU'S SHEEP.

It Matched His Dog and Satisfied the Tax Collector.

Emile Goudau, a celebrated character of Paris, was one of the most confirmed bohemians that ever lived. There is a story of him and a certain black spaniel which followed him with the faithfulness with which the little lamb attached itself to the historic little Mary. Goudau and the dog, in fact, were never separated. It dawned upon the tax gatherer of the neighborhood that Goudau had not paid his dues for the "inferior brother."

He approached him, therefore, in as friendly a spirit as possible, being, indeed, an old acquaintance, and said, "M. Goudau, I must ask you to pay your tax for the spaniel."

The bohemian was immensely surprised, or affected to be. "But don't you know my dear sir," he said in a tone of remonstrance, "this is a sheep dog, useful to me in my work and consequently exempt from the tax."

"But you are no shepherd," returned the tax gatherer, "and your dog is not a sheep dog, but a black spaniel."

"No shepherd?" replied Goudau. "Every poet is a shepherd. Have you not heard of Virgil and Theocritus?"

The poet would have smiled twenty other names if the tax gatherer, alarmed at such a display of learning, had not stopped him. "But at least you have no sheep," he said.

"No, I admit that," said Goudau, "is because I am too poor. But I will rectify that."

And he did. Next day he observed promiscuously the streets of Montmartre with the same old black spaniel, but with a new owner in the shape of a real, live, woolly sheep—London Sketch.

JABEZ HUNKER, justice of the peace, signed his name with a flourish, and then, with a flourish, he signed the letter which he had just completed. It was the result of a long, long day, and he was tired.

Miss Amanda Givers, Present.

Dear Miss Givers—I am writing to you on the 25th of December. I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

I have just finished my letter to you, and I am now sitting here, waiting for the post to take it to you.

Girlhood and Scott's Emulsion linked together.

The girl who takes Scott's Emulsion has plenty of rich, red blood; she is plump, active and energetic.

The reason is that at a period when a girl's digestion is weak, Scott's Emulsion provides her with powerful nourishment in easily digested form.

It is a food that builds and keeps up a girl's strength.

ALL DRUGGISTS: 50c. AND $1.00.

Many were surprised, and Jabez, after going to the barn and attending to the chores, returned to the house to find a letter from his mother. The letter was from his mother, and it was a letter from his mother.

The letter was from his mother, and it was a letter from his mother.

The letter was from his mother, and it was a letter from his mother.

PLANETARY VITALITY.

Earthquakes can take place only on a moon phase.

A moon phase is an unchangeable, because the moon is as dead as a door-nail. Our satellite is "ever fresh."
